to do?

You're not the only one!

Millions of Americans are having an energy crisis.

They're tired when they wake up in the morning.

They drag themselves through the day.

And when they get home they're too worn out to even THINK about having any fun.

They don't have enough energy to fix a good dinner, do the chores, get some exercise, or even just enjoy the evening with their family.

About all they can manage is to drop into a chair, fall asleep in front of the TV, and finally stagger off to bed.

And then they're TOO TIRED to get a good night's sleep. They toss and turn, doze and wake, and when they get up in the morning they're TOO TIRED all over again.

You DON'T have to put up with this any more... thanks to a natural secret for NON-STOP ENERGY!

We call it GREEN TEA ELIXIR™. You'll call it ROCKET FUEL!*

Dear Seeker of Health and Wellness,

Every day, I get letters from other health-seekers like you. And do you know what most of them tell me?

They're TIRED.

Not just sleepy-tired. Not even played-five-sets-of-tennis tired. Bone tired. Dog tired. Tired all the time.

Oh, yeah – some people write about aches and pains. Some are worried about their hearts, or their blood sugar, or their digestion. But the biggest complaint by far is plain old fatigue.

And do you know what I tell them?

There's a solution. It's simple. It's delicious. And it's guaranteed!

The solution is Green Tea Elixir – a blend of extracts from green tea and four other incredible energy-boosting plants. Half a dropperful in your morning coffee, tea or juice not only gets you off to a rip-roaring start – it provides enough energy to keep you humming for an entire day. And unlike “crash and burn” energy drinks, it's perfectly safe.

And that is just the beginning.

Because at the same time this amazing elixir is also helping to de-fog your brain, sharpen your focus, boost your stamina, balance your blood sugar, strengthen your immune system, manage your blood pressure, control your weight and keep stress from getting you down.

It does all this without a big caffeine kick, and without any scary stimulants.

And just in case you're thinking it all sounds too good to be true – I want you to try it, RISK FREE!

Edward tried it. He was pretty amazed...

...and his wife didn't know what hit her!

Edward H., who lives in Providence, RI, had ordered Green Tea Elixir to see if it would boost his own energy. When he added half a dropperful to his tea that first morning, he had a bright idea. So he put the other half dropperful in his wife's cup. But – oops! – he forgot to tell her what he'd done.

Then he went off to work.

“My energy was through the roof!” Edward wrote us later. “My day was non-stop from 5 AM till bedtime.”

He was so busy, in fact, that he never even got a chance to check in on his wife and ask how she was doing. “I was going to call her while I was working to see if she felt a difference in energy like I did,” he says. But he really figured she'd just say she didn't feel any different.

Boy, was he wrong!

“Honey,” she said when Edward got home, “I folded all the clothes, cleaned the house, washed the floor, and I feel great.”

“She didn't even watch TV that day,” Edward says. “She was so busy with all that energy, she forgot!”

And that was their first day with GTE.

A scientist would call that a “blind test”.

Edward was looking for Green Tea Elixir to give him a boost. So it's possible he just thought he felt better because he expected the GTE to work.

But his wife had no idea what he'd done. She wasn't expecting anything. If she felt like she had more energy, it's because she DID.

Green Tea Elixir™

is just so good for you, it makes you feel better from head to toe!

When you add GTE to your daily routine, everything else just falls into place. And the way it works is so simple, it only takes two sentences to explain it:

GTE fortifies and protects every cell and structure in your body, including your vital DNA, by fighting oxidation AND It helps your body's energy furnace burn hotter, so it can turn the same amounts of fats and sugars into MORE energy.

It's almost like magic!

Every supercharged drop of this magical elixir contains the essences of five different powerful plants that help to deliver:

- ✓ Unquenchable energy
- ✓ Incredible stamina
- ✓ Great blood pressure, blood sugar and cholesterol readings
- ✓ A stronger immune system
- ✓ Faster fat burning
- ✓ Better weight control
- ✓ A sharp mind, a good memory and a whole lot more!

The very first time you try Green Tea Elixir you are going to say “Wow!”

A week after you've started taking it, your friends are going to be asking “What's going on?”

And after 30 days I'm betting you will NEVER give it up!

Alvin tried it. His fatigue and stress just melted away!

Alvin L. supports a family of nine on a sawmill and greenhouse that he runs himself, with the help of his wife and seven daughters. If anybody needs a strong body, an alert mind, and the ability to handle stress, it's him.

Green Tea Elixir makes a long day seem shorter.

When Alvin's had a rough morning and the afternoon is looking really long, what does he do? "I take some Green Tea Elixir at noon, and I'm just all out till 6:00 in the evening," he says.

It would take 20 cups of brewed green tea to get all the same God-given benefits you'll get in ONE half-dropperful of Green Tea Elixir!!

Try it today – RISK FREE!

Turn to page 23 for details.

But his days don't always end at 6 p.m. – and that calls for a different kind of energy.

"Maybe you have company and stay up till midnight, get a couple of hours sleep," Alvin says. "Or when I'm travelling with a fellowship group, or at a convention, being around a lot of people – needing to hear or focus and to be in a conversation when there's other people talking in the background – it can be stressful. I'll take some Green Tea Elixir and have all kinds of energy and be alert, relaxed and enjoying the day."

That's the power of green tea!

Unlike coffee, Green Tea Elixir boosts your energy and focus without making you all tense and jumpy. That's because at the same time that the theopylline and theobromine are pumping you up, the l-theanine is calming your mind and melting stress away.

The first thing you'll notice is the ENERGY.

Most people tell us Green Tea Elixir works almost instantly, with an energy lift that kicks in fast and lasts for hours. And it's not just physical energy – it's mental energy as well. It makes you feel calm, clear-headed, able to cope with almost any challenge.

That's why so many people – even "morning people" – take Green Tea Elixir with their breakfast coffee, juice or tea. But the great thing is that you can drink Green Tea Elixir any time you need a lift – and it won't keep you up or keep you from sleeping the way coffee and caffeine-laden "power drinks" do.

Next, you'll notice how clearly you're thinking.

You know how drinking too much coffee makes you feel kind of jittery and all-over-the-place? Green Tea Elixir won't do that.

It's not that Green Tea Elixir doesn't contain caffeine. It does. But it's a gentler kind of caffeine, and that makes all the difference.

The caffeine in Green Tea Extract comes from theophylline and theobromine. It works three different ways: stimulating your central nervous system, boosting the flow of blood to your kidneys, and reducing inflammation.

At the same time, Green Tea Elixir contains l-theanine, a stress-busting amino acid that helps keep your mind calm and clear no matter what's going on in your life.

If you want to feel mentally sharp without coffee jitters, Green Tea Elixir will do the trick every time!

Erma tried it. Now she's bursting with energy, looking great, and sleeping like a baby!

"Green Tea Elixir has something that doctors do not have," Erma E. says. "I'm 58 and feel like 40. The energy I get is through the roof. I walk 5 miles and still have energy left over. Once I start walking it seems like the energy really kicks in."

Erma's daughter can't get over it. "My daughter asked me, 'Mom, what are you doing? You look so good!' I think she's a little jealous!" Erma says.

But the energy is just the beginning.

"Green Tea Elixir helps with my mental focus and clarity, too," Erma says. "And sleep! Before, I'd sleep about 4 hours. Then I'd wake up and it was hard to get back. With the Green Tea Elixir, I'm relaxed all night and I get about 7 or 8 hours."

"And my skin!" Erma exclaims. "It has made it smoother and more radiant. It has a glow, you know?"

It's good for your health and your quality of life.

We can see where Erma's daughter is coming from; but she really should be happy her mother is taking GTE. Studies in both Europe and Japan suggest that drinking green tea reduces your risk of dying from all causes, including cardiovascular disease. It helps build strong bones, boosts endurance, protects your liver, your kidneys, even your gums, and it helps keep your mind keen.

And in a study of nearly 14,000 Japanese men and women aged 65 and older, published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition, those who drank the most green tea were significantly less likely to have trouble taking care of their own daily needs as they grew older.

But still – it can't be easy, having a mother who acts and looks as young as you!

Studies show that older people who drink green tea stay active and independent longer!

That means good things are happening!

That energy kick is just one sign of the good things that Green Tea Elixir is making happen inside every cell in your body.

Every delicious drop of Green Tea Elixir is loaded with special kinds of antioxidants (sometimes called tannins, sometimes called polyphenols, but most often referred to as "catechins").

There are actually four different catechins in green tea, but the one that has researchers most excited is epigallocatechin gallate, or EGCG.

Catechins do all kinds of good things.

They help your cells burn sugar more efficiently.

They help keep your blood vessels relaxed and your blood thin. That speeds the delivery of oxygen and nutrients to your heart, your muscles, and your brain.

They support healthy blood pressure and good low LDL cholesterol readings; help reduce cholesterol oxidation; strengthen your immune system; promote mental clarity and focus; and even help with weight control.

They make everything work more efficiently.

How do they do this? In several different ways. They boost the production and/or the activity of enzymes that do things like manage inflammation and neutralize toxic chemicals. They guard against free radical activity. And they keep all your defenses strong.

In a nutshell: they help you stay healthy.

So many different studies have demonstrated what green tea catechins can do, it would take a whole book to list them all.

In a recent study in Japan, health care workers who took green tea catechins were significantly less likely to come down with the flu than co-workers who took a placebo. Scientists at the University of Alexandria in Egypt found that green tea extract made antibiotics more effective – even against resistant organisms. A study at UCLA showed drinking green tea could reduce your risk of stroke; one at UC San Francisco showed tannins helped stroke victims recover faster by protecting the nerve cells in the brain.

And when it comes to protecting you against oxidative stress, green tea catechins simply outdo themselves.

Black tea is good as far as it goes, but green tea has the REAL power!

Most people in the West drink black tea. In China, India and Japan, green tea is more popular by far.

All tea starts out green. Black tea leaves have been fermented, which reduces their catechin content. The fermentation gives black tea a stronger flavor; but green tea has more antioxidant power.

In a study of 2600 Japanese schoolchildren, those who drank five cups of green tea a week had significantly fewer cases of flu than those who drank none. The children who drank the most green tea also missed fewer days due to illness.

Sharon H. of West Virginia is performing her own one-woman study. "My husband and son have each had the flu, both last year and this, and I haven't been sick so far!" she says. "The green tea elixir is the main thing that I am doing different. I mix the drops (one dropperful) with V8 each morning. I will continue to take it and see how things keep going."

A trial with coffee and tea drinkers at Boston's Brigham and Women's Hospital offers a clue as to why Sharon is doing so well. The researchers found up to five times as many anti-bacterial proteins in the tea drinkers' blood!

Michael Sellers of New York doesn't really care why green tea works; he's just happy it does. "This Green Tea Elixir is simply amazing," he says. "Since my wife and I have been taking this we have not, I repeat, we have not had a cold or been sick."

And Nancy K. of Indiana says, "Usually after I take an airplane flight, I always get a cold. Since I've been taking my Green Tea Elixir I've not been sick – not even after flying. Thanks for boosting my immune system!"

One cup of green tea provides 20 to 35 mg of EGCG, which has the highest antioxidant activity of all the green tea catechins.

Catechins guard every one of your cells against oxidative stress.

Oxidation is a normal process – but that doesn't make it good!

It starts when a free radical – a molecule that has lost an electron – goes hunting for a replacement electron to put itself back into balance again.

Free radicals latch onto healthy molecules and rob them of the electrons they need to stabilize themselves. When that happens, the molecules they've attacked morph into free radicals themselves, setting off a chain reaction of cell damage that may even cause cell death.

It starts with one – and turns into an avalanche!

Cell death is not as serious as it sounds; our bodies are constantly replacing dead cells. Cell damage is another story. When these cells reproduce themselves, any number of bad things can happen.

Some antioxidants (called chain-breakers) help avert cell damage by donating their own electrons to stop the reaction. Others – mostly antioxidant enzymes – step in before the chain reaction has a chance to get started. Still others arm your DNA to resist mutation.

Catechins do all these things, effectively disabling free radicals before they get a chance to damage your cells or wreak havoc on your DNA.

Green tea catechins protect you FIVE WAYS!

According to researchers at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, green tea catechins work FIVE WAYS to head off oxidative damage:

1. By donating electrons to free radicals to stop the chain reaction
2. By binding to oxygen-reactive metal ions
3. By protecting DNA against damage from active transcription factors
4. By inhibiting the activity of pro-oxidant enzymes
5. By activating enzymes that prevent oxidation

Where do free radicals come from?

Some free radicals are produced by normal processes going on inside your body. Others enter your body in the air you breathe, the cigarette smoke you inhale, the food and water you eat and drink. These are the ones that do the most harm.

Lynne tried it when she found she couldn't exercise. Her energy's up, her weight is not, and her allergies have gone into hiding!

Lynne M. runs a daycare. With eight little kids under the age of four running around all day, she needs all the energy she can get and a little bit more to spare. Green Tea Elixir gives her that – and helps keep her weight under control too.

Lynne decided to try Green Tea Elixir a year or two ago, after she'd had foot surgery and exercising hurt too much. She was worried that the pounds would start to pile on, and she'd read that green tea revs up your metabolism so you burn calories faster.

In fact, a study in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition reported exactly that. Other studies suggest green tea may reduce your appetite, or slow the absorption of glucose into your cells – both of which, of course, will also help keep weight under control.

The results have been all she hoped for, and more.

Lynne's never been a big coffee or tea drinker, so she just drops some Green Tea Elixir into a cup of hot chocolate in the morning, and it gives her all the get-up-and-go she needs to keep up her busy pace.

"I've been taking it for over a year now, and I haven't gained any weight," Lynne says. "But better than that, I haven't had a flare-up of my personal allergies – and that hasn't happened in 20 years or more!"

It cranks you up – and that slims you down!

You know how a mechanic fine-tunes the mixture of fuel and air in the cylinders to make your car run better? Green tea catechins tune-up the combustion inside your cells to help them "burn hotter" – using sugars and fats more efficiently.

Talk about a win-win situation!

Green Tea Elixir™ encourages your body to burn fat for fuel instead of depositing it on your hips. That produces energy... the energy helps you be more active... you burn more calories ... you build up fewer fat deposits... and just look at that strong, lean new you!

It's a domino effect – but instead of dominoes, it's your weight that's falling!

Clinical trials at the University of Geneva and the University of Birmingham concluded that green tea raises metabolic rates, speeds up fat oxidation and improves insulin sensitivity and glucose tolerance. The caffeine and catechins in green tea work together to boost thermogenesis (heat production) and energy expenditure.

In a Dutch study, participants who drank green tea saw both their weight and their waistlines shrink. The results were better for people who drank caffeinated green tea vs. decaf.

And in a study of 240 people in Japan who took green tea extract daily, the ones who got the highest amount lost both fat and weight, and had better blood pressure and cholesterol readings.

What will YOU do with all that extra energy?

- ✓ Join a health club?
- ✓ Play an extra round of golf?
- ✓ Go out dancing?
- ✓ Take a hike?
- ✓ Wash the windows, scrub the floor, then go out and shop till you drop?

It's your life. Grab it and go!

Marlene tried it – and she’s really glad she did.

Her energy is nice and high; her blood sugar’s staying low!

In August 2004 the magazine BMC Pharmacology published a study showing healthy participants who drank green tea were able to utilize blood sugar better.

It certainly seems to be working that way for Marlene L.

For the past five or six years, Marlene has been working to keep her blood sugar between 100 and 125. At first, she was taking Metformin. But she and husband Richard really prefer a natural approach. So now, three times a day, Richard heats a big cup of water in the microwave, adds some Green Tea Elixir, and Marlene drinks it down.

“Her blood sugar’s staying right in range,” Richard beams. Her energy is up and her brain feels sharper, too. “High blood sugar does make you tired,” Marlene concedes. “The Green Tea Elixir is helping to counteract that.”

And the way Richard and Marlene see it, a hot cup of tea is better than a pill any day!
